

Rosalie Liccardo Pacula is a Senior Economist at the RAND Corporation and a Professor at the Pardee RAND Graduate School. She serves as Director of RAND's BING Center for Health Economics and co-directs the RAND's Drug Policy Research Center with Dr. Beau Kilmer. She is also the Vice President of the International Society for the Study of Drug Policy. With her RAND colleagues, Dr. Pacula has been providing guidance to Washington state, Vermont and Canada on their legalization initiatives, focusing on public health aspects of these laws. She has helped guide the scientific evaluation of these policies by serving as an advisor to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's Public Health Law Research Program and to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism's APIS system, which both collect and make publicly available state statutory information pertaining to different aspects of marijuana policy. Finally, since January 2017, she has served on the newly formed National Institute on Drug Abuse Advisory Council's Marijuana Policy Workgroup.
